Proactive front-end developer with experience in creating applications using Typescript, JavaScript, React, Next.js, and other technologies. Skilled in GIT, data structures, and frameworks like Bootstrap and Tailwind CSS, along with RESTful API integration. Excels in collaborative environments and is passionate about taking on new challenges. Also experienced in mentoring teammates to contribute to their growth and development. Additionally, I have worked on freelance projects, which have helped me develop additional skills and adaptability in diverse environments. Currently, seeking remote Front End Developer opportunities in dynamic, high-performance teams. Passionate about web application development and always eager to learn new technologies to further my professional growth.
